

HALT MEATLESS DAYS, IS PLAN OF SENATORS

Restrictions Upset Market, Create Chaos in Prices, Claim Livestock Men

ENDANGER SUPPLY

Free Market for Meat, Is Plea to End Slump in Use of Mutton

Washington, March 15.—Meatless days will go into the discard, if recommendations of the Senate Agriculture Committee bear weight.

Investigation into the food question by the committee is expected to come to a close today. Recommendations will then be made to the Senate and will participate that these will include wide changes in the methods of the food administration.

Parliamentary restrictions of the food administration, to be advised by the Senate committee, is a discontinuance of the meatless days or, at least, by the testimony of many livestock producers to the effect that meatless days are not decreasing consumption to any appreciable degree and are endangering the supply of the future.

The committee has a large number of statistics showing that the mutton supply of this country has been especially affected by the meatless-day order. It shows that experts of mutton production have decreased the amount of such a degree that the market has become very slow. As a consequence, producers claim that the price has fallen to such a point that livestock men are turning to other products.

This evidence has been most forcefully put before the committee by two men closely connected with the food administration. These are E. L. Burke, of Omaha, Neb., and Dwight B. Hurt, of Phoenix, Ariz., both members of the advisory committee on livestock.

There is also evidence to the effect that conservation has filled the refrigerating plants and, as a consequence, livestock is being held on the farms which should be on the market. Farmers appearing before the committee declare that they are required to feed their cattle for long periods after they are ready for market, and that this results in a loss on the net price which the livestock brings on the hoof.

Beef and pork products, the cattle dealers claim, are also suffering from the meatless days, and that this results in a loss on the net price which the livestock brings on the hoof.

JERSEY TROLLEY LINE WANTS SIX-CENT FARE

Trenton and Princeton Line to Make Plea to Public Utility Commission April 9

Trenton, N. J., March 15.—The State Board of Public Utility Commissioners today fixed April 9 at the State House for a public hearing on an application just filed by the New Jersey and Pennsylvania Traction Company and its subsidiaries, the Trenton, Lawrenceville and Princeton Street Railway, the Trenton, Lawrenceville and Princeton Trolley Company and the Princeton Street Railway, which are operating a trolley system between this city and Princeton, through the town of Lawrenceville, and which are asking a charge six instead of five cents per fare on all lines between this city and Princeton. It is also asked by the petitioner that permission be granted to eliminate the sale of work tickets at the rate of twenty for one dollar, which is alleged that some of the patrons of the companies have abused the privilege accorded through the trolley company.

The New Jersey and Pennsylvania Traction Company, which was promoted by the late "Tom" L. Johnson, former Mayor of Philadelphia, which operates lines to New Hope, Newton, Yardley and other municipalities in Pennsylvania, has also filed an application with the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania for the right to increase the rates to the same extent to the Pennsylvania towns.

GOVERNOR EDGE MOVES TO GET FARM LABOR

Asks Report on Conditions From Agricultural Department—Would Interest Children

Trenton, N. J., March 15.—In laying plans to stimulate farm production and continue on a larger scale the movement of last year designed to secure sufficient labor for the farms, and also interest school children in farming, Governor Edge has sent to the State Department of Agriculture with respect to the agricultural and labor conditions for this year. The Governor regards as of paramount importance in the report of the State Department of Labor in Newark. The duty of this representative will be to assist in selecting competent agricultural laborers for farms. Farmers of New Jersey have been informed regarding the establishment of successive boys' camps in the State, and will be urged to make similar provision for the labor of schoolboys during the coming spring and summer. The Department of Agriculture plans to send some units of women having had farm opportunity before coming to this country in supplementing the work of schoolboys.

GOV. BRUMBAUGH RETURNS TO STATE CAPITAL, TAKING ALONG THAT "LITTLE BLACK BOOK"

Says He Will Bring Forth Remarkable Diary for Use Later in Campaign Against Spruill—Vare Continues as Sphinx on Question of Gubernatorial Candidate

Governor Brumbaugh's "little black book" trip to Philadelphia has ended and the incident is apparently closed for the present. The Governor has returned to Harrisburg and Senator Spruill is through answering "excerpts from the book."

The Governor, however, in a partying state said he would bring forth the "little black book" which is his personal diary kept during the many years of his active life, during a red-hot campaign he is preparing to wage on behalf of a Henry O'Neil, Highway Commissioner in his cabinet.

Commissioner O'Neil followed close on his chief's heels yesterday for a big conference with Attorney General Brown, Senator Vare, Congressman John L. K. Scott, the Vare candidate for Lieutenant Governor, and Senator William M. Lynch, of Lancaster County. These five went over the political situation in the Attorney General's office, and at the end had nothing to say. O'Neil merely smiles about the "little black book" otherwise he had nothing to say about the conference.

Senator Vare would not comment upon whether he has changed in his attitude with regard to the Spruill candidacy. For a time it seemed there would be no doubt of his supporting Spruill after the latter came out in favor of prohibition, but now political depositions say his influence is in the balance and the question of whether he will call depends entirely upon whether the Pennrose supporters accept Spruill as a candidate for Lieutenant Governor or fight his nomination. It is likely the Vare support will go to O'Neil.

The question of the "black" vote is the most discussed matter in political circles, both Democratic and Republican today. The Helms-Boyd-Scotts are crowded with politicians from many parts of the State and all are trying to "drop" possibilities with regard to the "black" vote, which a few years ago was considered the strong right arm of Senator Pennrose in his fight. Richard J. Baldwin, Speaker of the House, dropped the bombshell which started speculation.

"What I want to know is where this 'black' vote is going," remarked the Speaker. He then made a few snatches of remarks about possibilities of what the "black" vote might do, and everybody looked at somebody else. The "black" vote had been forgotten in the wave of prohibition, which shot even the Pennrose candidate Spruill into the air.

There are about 14,000 liquor licenses in Pennsylvania, according to available information. This includes retail and wholesale. Now, the arguments are, should each of these licenses be assigned blindly to believe in votes? Sounds easy, doesn't it? It is actually the other way around. There are 14,000 votes from each organization. The license holders admit that 250,000 votes will be sufficient to nominate the successful candidate on the Republican ticket.

"But where are you going to get the man of sufficient votes and standing in the State to lead a vote ticket?" This is the next question. "You, that's right," is about the strongest answer heard to the question to date.

Senator Spruill undoubtedly had the liquor following up to the three to "curse" "dry" because he had the Pennrose endorsement. Now it is thought probable a strictly "wet" candidate will be put into the field. At any rate, the liquor dealers' association, brewers' association and other "wet" organizations are holding conferences, and it is admitted that they are planning to make their fight. Along what lines is not known, their leaders say.

Senator Vare would not comment upon
